with Betty Allen...

Interesting and interested visitors here on Old Settlers' Day were Mr. and Mrs. Morrie Pembroke of Menlo Park. Mrs. Pembroke is a descendant of Aza Finley, who was in Benjamin Campbell's wagon train which arrived here one hundred years ago this year.

Speaking of Old Settlers' Day, there was considerable confusion on the part of everyone as to just how many Old Settlers' Days there have been. T. A. Cutting believes the first one to have been held in 1883, but other records claim different years. Perhaps this should be decided by a research-minded jury before the next celebration.

Still on the subject, did you know that Campbell had the first rural route in the United States? The idea of a rural mail route was first tried out here in 1896 and proved so successful that it was immediately extended all over the country.

Poor old King, the horse who drew The Campbell Press wagon in the parade, found all the music and excitement very shattering to his aged years. If horses could purr, he would have, when he found himself safe at home at last.

By some mischance, Mrs. Kenneth Gray's case of flu was not mentioned in the paper. She has now fully recovered, but is still brooding about the oversight.

It's good to see "Dobie" Jeffers back at his post in Field's Store. The case of Easter egg dyes was upsent inadvertently in there the other day, and the guilty gentleman (not Mr. Jeffers) backed hastily away muttering, "Oh, I deserve to die."

Have you seen Lowell Grattan, all 6 feet 5 inches of him, running around in that little car which is much smaller than he is? In spite of its midget size it tears around at a great pace.

The latest high school jargon of chaperones seems to be "fire for chaperones seems to be "fire

Philip Farley Receives Citation

Lt. Philip J. Farley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Farley, who has recently received his discharge from the service, has received a citation for Legion of Merit, which reads:

"Second Lieutenant Philip J. Farley rendered exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services from November, 1944, to September, 1945. As Chief of the Bearings Section of the Equipment Division of the United States Strategic Bombing Survey, he displayed outstanding energy, ability, and judgment in the collection and evaluation of data on the German anti-friction bearings industry as a target system for strategic bombing, and in his conduct of the field survey of the physical and economic effects of the Army Air Force attacks upon the Schweinfurt complex of that industry, including preparation of a superior report on the industry. In so doing, Lieutenant Farley contributed in an exceptional measure to the accomplishments of the survey and to the war effort."

Now in Washington, D. C., Farley is completing a final report on the surveys conducted in both Germany and Japan.

Every week a name will be drawn from our list of new subscribers and printed in the classified ad column. The person whose name appears there may receive two free passes to the Campbell Theater by calling at the Press Office. Look and see if your name is there!

Tindall Reports To School Board

At the last meeting of the school board, a paper prepared by Arthur Tindall, elementary school teacher, was read to the members. This paper was written to determine the type of student to be served by the school district here; to examine vocational possibilities for high school graduates; to decide whether the students' choices are logical; and to evaluate the present curricular offerings in the light of available opportunities.

Tindall found that although most of the students attending school here are from the middle class families, the assessed valuation of the district since 1939 has increased by three millions, which indicates a slow move toward the converting of agricultural areas to other purposes. The estimated population of the district was 7,880 in 1939. This has now jumped to 12,000, a 50 per cent increase.

The tremendous increase in population, coupled with the gradual leaving of agricultural pursuits means, according to Tindall's report, that a more liberal point of view may be expected to emerge. He says also: "At the present time there is considerable thought along the line of incorporation, and in the event that this takes place, it might mean some change in the arrangement of the schools within the influence of the community."

San Jose's amazing growth will also affect Campbell since Campbell is known as "the bedroom of San Jose." All of these factors influence occupational choices of today's students, and their opportunities after leaving school will depend upon how well the curriculum adapted itself to the needs of the students.

Tindall says: "Do high school students actually know what they desire as an occupation? If the answer is no, then it is up to the school to be informed on the district possibilities and counsel the students accordingly. If the answer is yes, then the job of the school is to provide the students with training along the desired lines."

Questionnaires were filled out by the junior and senior classes at the Campbell High school regarding post-graduate plans and the results are included in the report. A large number desire further education after leaving high school, and the majority plan on making their living in the county.

The service occupations which include such diversified jobs as actors, architects, beauty operators, butchers, doctors, housewives, lawyers, social workers, teachers, etc., were the choice of 42.3% of the students.

The next choice made by 34.6% of the students was the distribution occupations which include such work as trucking, mechanic, bookkeeping, secretarial work, etc. 5.7% chose farming, geology, etc., called extraction occupations. The smallest group, 4.4%, chose conversion occupations — draftsman, pattern maker, cabinet maker, etc.

Only two students chose the Army and Navy as a career and 13% had no choice.

Tindall found these selections closely allied with the estimate of post-war percentages of the total population in the county.

A graduate of Long Beach Junior College and San Jose State, this paper was prepared by Tindall in connection with a class he has been attending at Stanford University.

Smith Attends Regional Meet

Albert Smith, agricultural instructor at the Campbell Union High school, attended a regional meeting of agricultural teachers at King City last Saturday.

Californians In Quarter Finals

By JACK MURDOCK

The Campbell Californians, local top notch basketball team entered the quarter final round of the Pacific Athletic Association basketball tournament now in progress in San Francisco. This tournament, sponsored by the San Francisco Examiner, brings together each year the leading teams of Northern California, and is under the auspices of the Pacific Athletic Association, governing body of amateur sports. The winner of the tourney receives a trip to the National AAU basketball tournament at Denver.

Sunday afternoon the Campbell team vanquished the "Hunters" club of San Francisco by a score of 53 to 33, and Tuesday evening walloped the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. to the tune of 61 to 24.

The quarter final round is composed of the 16 remaining teams out of the 50 originally entered, and Campbell, by virtue of their two one-sided victories, are established as the dark horse team of the tourney.

Saturday evening at 7 o'clock they play the Glen Park Athletic Club of San Francisco, a team which has been established as one of the favorites. A fair sized crowd from Campbell is expected to be in attendance.

The first two games were sparked by Paul Borg, diminutive forward, who was one of the outstanding small basketball players of Campbell High. Paul is a Lieutenant J. G. in the Navy, and is stationed at San Francisco at present. Playing the co-star role with Paul in this tournament has been Pete Denevi of Los Gatos, who has played outstanding ball this season. The balance of the team, all stars in former years, are Kay Borg, Bert Robinson, Bud Bachman, Don Snow, Al Carter, Byron Tonascia, Sandy Hedegard, all from Campbell; Bob Pouey of Los Gatos and Mac Michaelis of San Jose.

Goes East for Wedding

Cecil Menard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Menard, and a recent Navy dischargee, left last week for East St. Louis, Ill., where he will take as his bride, Miss Anna McKenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. McKenzie.

Adventists Build New Structure

Construction of a new $10,000 church building by the Seventh Day Adventists has begun at the corner of Rincon and Fourth. The building, when finished, will be a modified English type with stucco exterior.

Although the congregation here is relatively small, they have raised the money for the structure and are planning on doing most of the work themselves. Under the direction of R. H. Anderson, elder of the church, the foundation has already been laid.

Included in the building plans are a large auditorium with a glassed-in room adjoining for mothers with small children. A loud speaker will be installed in the room so that they may hear the services. There will also be three classrooms to accommodate the kindergarten, primary and junior classes.

Church members hope to have the work completed by June 1.

Teen-Agers' Dance Success

The dance for teen-agers sponsored by a group of women with Mrs. H. C. Nelson as their leader, which was held last Saturday evening at the Women's Club was attended by a large number of young people.

Asked for constructive suggestions, the group responded with ideas and enthusiastically clamored for another dance. This one is planned for the evening of March 16.

A door prize of a large box of candy was won by Miss Margaret Pharris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Pharris, White Oaks road.

Through the courtesy of The Press I should like to thank my neighbors and friends for their kindnesses to me at the time of our fire and extend particular compliments to the Campbell volunteer fire department and the State Forestry fire service. The cooperation between the two was excellent.

Three File For Justice Of The Peace In Campbell Township

Three candidates have filed for the race for Campbell Justice of the Peace to be nominated in June.

The incumbent, John D. Blaine, filed his intention to run for re-election, and will be opposed by Martin S. Walsh, attorney, and Frank E. Weeks.

March 1 is the deadline for the filing of names to be included on the printing of the June primary election ballot, according to the election laws amended four years ago.

Martin S. Walsh, who received his law degree from the University of Santa Clara, has practiced law in Santa Clara County for many years. He is a member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club, the Orchard City Grange, and has served as secretary of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce for many years.

Frank Weeks, another contestant, was a former night watchman here and is a member of the Campbell Post of the American Legion and also the Chamber of Commerce.

The incumbent, John D. Blaine, has served as Justice of the Peace for several terms. He is also a member of the school board.

New Ice Service To Start Here

Beginning March 1, Campbell will have a new ice delivery service which will be available for both commercial businesses and residences. Zola Hollinger, owner of the new business, plans on daily deliveries for the Campbell area.

A resident of Manhattan Beach for the past 25 years, Hollinger is an experienced ice man, for he had an ice delivery service there.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollinger have bought a house at 26 Thornton Way and are now at home there. They have two daughters, Janet and Joan, who are attending the Campbell elementary school.

Hollinger devotes his spare time to his large stamp collection which he has had since the time of Harding's administration.

Traditional Holiday Celebrated Here

Although a few dark clouds hovered over Campbell on the morning of the 22nd, the day turned out warm and pleasant for the town's yearly celebration. A large crowd witnessed the parade which began the day's festivities. Jointly sponsored by the American Legion and the Chamber of Commerce, the parade included representatives of the Legion, old settlers riding in official cars, Boy Scout troops, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scout Troop 25, a large number of horsemen, and floats entered by the Hi-Y Club, Tri-Y Club, Horizon Club, the Red Cross, the Co-operative Dryer, Drew Cannery, The Campbell Press, and the Future Farmers of America. Furnishing the music for the marchers was the Campbell High school band. Also included were Campbell's fire engines and a truck of the Water company's.

Outstanding in the parade was the Future Farmers' entry which consisted of several floats depicting "Prune Growers in 1946", and included all of the steps from pruning to the finished product in the can. The Horizon club's float depicted "Past and Present" with girls dressed in the mode of today and others dressed in the fashions of the pioneers. The Campbell Press's entry was a horsedrawn wagon with a sunbonneted little girl riding on the seat.

Following the parade, the program at the high school proceeded as scheduled with Capt. William C. Dyer Jr. as speaker of the day, introduced by Martin Wash. The Legion presented the colors, the Rev. Robert Carlson gave the invocation and solos were presented by Miss Josephine Barbano and C. P. Klassen.

Introduction of the old settlers was made by T. A. Cutting and included in the group were Mrs. Henry Campbell, daughter-in-law of Benjamin Campbell, the town's original settler; her son, Lt. Com. A. B. Campbell; Mrs. Charlotte Sutter, who is the town's oldest settler and was born here; Charles Berry, the first Southern Pacific agent in Campbell, who came in 1881; William Coupland, an early rancher who lived at the end of Central Ave.; S. N. Hedegard, who has been responsible for many of the real estate developments in the vicinity; and William Whipple, one of the early residents.

A large number of returned veterans in uniform were among the dancers at the evening dance in the high school gym. James Dent served as master of ceremonies and presented the prize-winning Pomona - Santa Clara County Grange drill team as the featured entertainment of the occasion. Music was furnished by Bill Smith's band.

The committee responsible for the day's activities was composed of Walter Silberbauer, Guy Smith, Martin Walsh, Lowell Benson, Dave Ribble, and Frank Coupland.

High School Senior Injured

Girl Scouts Aid Russian Relief

Girl Scout Troop 25, composed of Campbell girls, which meets under the leadership of Mrs. J. L. Parker, Thornton Way, has made a substantial contribution to the Russian Relief. They have already delivered two large boxes of clothing to the Russian center and have also donated a large box of canned baby foods.

The Russian Relief under the direction of the Rev. Mark Rifkenbark maintains a center in the Security Building, where workers may call for sewing or knitting. Clothing and canned foods may also be left there in addition to English and American classics for which there is a large demand from the Russians. Mrs. Myra McLoughlin, treasurer of the group, says: "The money that is donated goes to buy machinery for the Russians so that they may help themselves. Their amputees and other hospital cases have no artificial limbs and no way to make them. We do not send things that are needed by our boys."

In addition to their work for the Russian Relief the Campbell Girl Scouts, headed by Betty Fujimoto, president, have filed more

THE RED CROSS

By MRS. H. C. COUSINS

Campbell's Red Cross quota for 1946 is set at $4,700.00.
During the month of March, our local solicitors will call on you to help raise this amount.

In peace as in war the helping hand of the Red Cross is always ready to aid and assist thousands, whose suffering is caused by pestilence, famine, fire and flood.

The Red Cross still has a job to do in the hospitals, bringing cheer and comfort to the wounded. The following hospital services are performed by the "Gray Ladies": doing errands, writing letters, reading to the blind, assisting in ward activities, library services and shopping duties.
Red Cross also provides recreation and teaches Arts and Skills and many other jobs as essential as collecting blood for plasma, supplying surgical dressings, comfort articles, garments for the hospitalized and nurses' aides.

Expenses for these activities are met through the generous contributions received during this drive.

STEEL CARTEL FILES

WASHINGTON.—Dozens of G.
I. investigators have been working since the shooting war stopped to help win another war. This is a war against international big business, which recognized no national boundaries, which used countries only as market divisions for its products, and which at one time aided Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito as much as it did France and England.

What the G. I. investigators have uncovered in Germany is a tribute to Nazi thoroughness and to the gullibility of American big business. For what it amounts to is a world plan by which Germany expanded its industrial capacity for war while simultaneously curbing the industrial capacity of this country and other potential enemies.

And the names of the same men who have been dickering with Truman over steel—Ben Fairless, Eugene Grace, et al.—have turned up in European files as part of the cartel which unwittingly played into the hands of the Nazis. It is a story which the leaders of the steel industry would like to forget. But the Justice Department hasn't forgotten it.

American participation in the steel cartel was decided upon as late as 1937—when there was no longer any doubt regarding Hitler's warlike intentions. By that time he had already invaded the Rhine-land, showed his hand by sending arms to Franco, and boasted openly in speech after speech that Germany would dominate Europe.

The steel cartel files, seized
in Luxembourg, reveal that S.
M. Bash of Bethlehem Steel and A. G. Munde of U. S. Steel took the initiative in binding
their companies to the cartel.
Four months later an agreement to divide up world markets was reached.

ANTITRUST ACT

The steel barons were careful about the Sherman antitrust act, however, and the minutes of the June, 1937, meeting reveal that no written agreement regarding U. S.
markets was concluded.

In February, 1938, a delegation of European steel men came to the United States.

"Our representatives," the Luxembourg files showed, "obtained a very clear declaration of responsibility for the agreements from" Messrs. Eugene
Grace of Bethlehem Steel, Ben Fairless of U. S. Steel, Rufus Wysor of Republic Steel, Frank Pournell of Youngstown Sheet and Tube, M. Hackett of Jones and Laughlin Steel, Charles Hook of Armco International,
William Holloway of Wheeling
Steel, Robert Wolcott of Lukens Steel, and Ernest Weir of the National Steel Corporation
(Weirton and Great Lakes Steel).

Also included in the American group were Inland Steel, Newport
Rolling Mills, Pittsburgh Steel,
Otis, and the Allan Wood Company.

RACE FOR WAR

What the steel barons agreed to was not only a division of markets but arrangements for price-maintenance. Quotas were set regarding the total production of each participating company, with fines levied against the firm if it exceeded its quota.

However, here is the pay-off.
The Germans always exceeded their quotas, after which they politely paid their fines and then kept on speeding their output of steel in the race for war. Meanwhile, American and British firms stayed within their quotas and kept down their war machine.

In contrast with the Germans, American firms, when they exceeded their quotas, were contrite and apologetic. For instance, here is an item from the steel cartel minutes of April 18, 1939, which read:

"In regard to a recent shipment by the American group to Belgium, i. e., a home market,
the American representative stated that he was taking this matter up with his group in order to avoid a recurrence."

How the cartel worked is also illustrated by a cable sent by Eu-

9th Lecture Saturday

The Civic Auditorium, San Jose, will be the setting for the 9th lecture on world affairs by Dr. Aurealia Henry Reinhardt, who has been giving a series of 10 weekly talks on the UNCIO under the auspices of the San Jose Garden Forum.

Dr. Reinhardt will speak in Room B of the Civic Auditorium, at 2 p. m. on Saturday. Her subject will be "The Little Nations in Peace and War". Dr. Reinhardt, former president of Mills College, has traveled extensively and has visited each of these small nations in turn. Her personal observations and study of these smaller nations will add greatly to the interest and value of her discussions. Not only did some of these smaller nations take an important part in World War II, but they have taken an increasingly important role in the plans for peace developing in UNCIO meetings recently held in London. The public is invited to attend. Tickets at the door.

State Legislation To Help Returned Vets

Governor Earl Warren signed a series of bills designed to assist war veterans in reestablishing themselves in civilian life.

Heading the list was a measure appropriating $7,500,000 to make federally owned housing suitable for occupancy by the families of veterans and of men still in military service. The program is to be administered by local communities, the State's participation being financial only. Ten per cent of the cost of converting the housing is to be borne by the communities, the remaining 90 per cent being paid out of the State appropriation.

In urging the legislation when the special session convened Jan. 7, Governor Warren said California was "obligated, in its determination to do everything possible to reestablish our war veterans in civilian life, to make every potential housing unit suitable for occupancy."

The measure was handled in the Legislature by Assemblyman Thomas Maloney of San Francisco.

Other legislation signed by Governor Warren included:

(1) A bill appropriating $175,000 to the California Apprenticeship Council, a division of the Department of Industrial Relations. The 1945 Legislature appropriated $65,000 for this purpose. The additional funds will enable the apprenticeship council to meet increased demands for its services, Governor Warren said.

The council collaborates with private industry and trade unions in making training opportunities as widely available to war veterans as possible. The council also supervises the kind of training given so that the veteran will derive the maximum benefit from it.

(2) A bill providing that a veteran who accepts educational benefits given by the State also may borrow money from the Veterans' Welfare Board for purchasing a home or farm. Under previous laws, a veteran could not participate in both the educational and purchase programs.

(3) A bill submitting a $100,000 bond issue to a vote of the people in November, augmenting the Veterans' Welfare Board loan fund. The 1945 Legislature authorized submitting a bond issue of $50,000,000. The 1946 Bond Act in effect doubles the amount. The new act also increases to $7,500 the amount which a veteran may borrow on a home and $13,500 on a farm.

(4) A bill consolidating the World War I and World War II loan funds. The effect of this legislation will be to simplify bookkeeping operations and to make the higher loan limits available to World War I "vets".

(5) A bill authorizing county service officers to administer oaths. Under this act, free notarial service is made available to veterans in filling out forms when applying for benefits under the "GI Bill of Rights" and other federal legislation, as well as state legislation.

The new laws add to provisions which already existed for assisting war veterans, Governor Warren pointed out. In a special message to the Legislature he said that "California has reason to be proud of the fact that the Legislature did not wait until V-E Day, but, even during the war, acted with foresight to establish practical veteran programs that are already in use by our returning Californians".

Moreland School Notes

Moreland Team ★ Defeated in Last Minute Play

On Thursday, Feb. 21, the Moreland school's basketball team suffered a defeat by Alum Rock in a fast, exciting and close game. The game was played at Moreland, but for a while it was undecided whether it would be played or not, because of the weather conditions. It was a very clean game with only one foul made by Alum Rock. Mr. Ryan of Alum Rock served as the coach. In the first, and second quarters the Alum Rock team was ahead, but Moreland's team went in fighting and tied the score, 14 to 14 in the fourth quarter, but because of the tie a fifth, four-minute quarter was played, and unfortunately Alum Rock got a four-point lead to win the game, 14 to 18. Next week Burbank school will be host to the Moreland team.

Moreland Boy Scouts March in Parade

Moreland Boy Scout Troop 36 marched twenty strong in the Old Settlers' Day parade in Campbell on Feb. 22. Boy Scouts Troop 31 also marched. It was regretted that no other troops could march. After the parade the boys went on a hike to Longbridge, above Saratoga. They had a wiener roast and then they went hiking, and two tenderfoots "got kind of lost". After the trip the boys went swimming at the Y. M. C. A.

PTA To Meet

The Moreland PTA will hold its second meeting March 6 at 2:30. Refreshments will be served and the Moreland school orchestra will play several selections. The Girl Scouts will present their international program. The play is based on the life of Juliette Low, founder of the Girl Scouts of America. Many of the incidents are amusing.

The cast is as follows: Daisy Gordan Low, Jeanie Peterson; Nellie, her sister, Gwen E. Legislation To Benefit County

Santa Clara County and the cities in the county can get $2,082,850 out of the $90,400,000 appropriation just made by the legislature with the enactment of the "construction and employment act", California Taxpayers' Association said, making public its analysis of the provisions of the new legislation, which will take effect 91 days after this session ends.

Under the terms of the act, the counties share will be $1,105,000, and the cities: Alviso, $6,068; Gilroy, $32,400; Los Gatos, $32,239; Morgan Hill, $9,088; Mountain View, $35,367; Palo Alto, $150,339; San Jose, $613,554; Santa Clara, $59,601; Sunnyvale, $38,194.

The new legislation appropriates $90,400,000, with $400,000 going for state administration, $45,000,000 to counties, and $45,000,000 to cities. It requires that on any construction there must be a "state" interest and that local agencies must provide 50 per cent of the actual cost of any project, except for county road and highway projects, in which case the state may aid up to $75,000 in the aggregate for any county. Any other federal, state, or local monies available may be used to meet the matching requirement.

Of the $45,000,000 for counties, one-third is set up for road and highway purposes in unincorporated territory and two-thirds for construction of projects such as hospitals and sanitariums, detention homes, schools, sewage facilities, sanitation facilities, roads, highways, flood control, fire protection and prevention facilities, and harbor facilities.

Of the $45,000,000 to cities, priorities are set up as follows: sewage facilities, major streets, schools, storm drains, and improvement of existing publicly owned water works.

Calling attention to the vital need today for private construction and the effect of unnecessary competition between private and public building on costs, the association said:

"In using this huge appropriation from the state treasury, California's counties and cities have the grave responsibility of spending the money wisely and of timing expenditures so that they will not add to the present great distress in many sections for construction and building for private needs. Prices today are very high and material and skilled labor shortages are serious. Public construction programs should be scheduled so that people will get the most from their tax dollars and the construction will not compete with private and immediate needs."

"Life of Christ" To Be Shown

Next Wednesday, March 6, a film, "The Life of Christ", will be shown in the Campbell Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock. This motion picture was filmed in the Holy Land and Egypt. The story of Jesus will be portrayed with musical background. The public is invited to see this picture. A silver offering will be received.

Time To Treat Crown Galls

The spring months are the best time to treat crown gall on peach, almond, and walnut trees. The soil is moist and more easily removed to expose the galls for treatment.

Assistant Farm Advisor G. D.
Worswick, of the local Agricultural Extension Service, explains the crown gall disease and tells what to do about it. He says the large wart-like growths which develop about the crown of the tree are caused by bacteria, and they are called galls. The bacteria does not enter through healthy or unbroken roots. A wound in the roots about the crown from implements or tools may be the beginning of crown gall. By opening a wound through which the bacteria enters the crown gall bacteria may live in the soil for a long time and it is easily spread.

After cleaning the soil away from the affected part, Mr. Wors-wick says to cut off the gall with an ax or chisel and brush the wound clean. Then paint the area with a liquid solution of one part Elgetol and four parts of wood alcohol. You can apply this mixture from an oil can or a large ink bottle with a spout, or even with a paint brush. Shake the mixture well before using. Be sure to cover the surface from which the gall was removed and extend the application one-half to one inch beyond the margin of the gall.

You may want to leave the area exposed until you are sure about the control. It is a good plan to paint any new wounds about the crown of the tree with Elgetol solution to prevent infection.

Home Septic Tank Circular

The most satisfactory and accepted method of sewage disposal for rural homes is the septic tank
and a subsurface drainage system.
The conveniences of water passing into the house is now enjoyed by nearly three-fourths of the farm families in California. The full advantage of having running water in the dwelling can be obtained
only if the sewage disposal system is safe.

Homemade septic tanks will operate effectively if properly designed and constructed. A circular of the Agricultural Extension Service, "A Septic Tank for Farm Homes", discusses types of septic tanks, directions for building, and final disposal of the liquid from the tank.

Drawings and material lists are included in the circular. It is available at no cost at the office of the Extension Service, 201 Post Office Bldg., San Jose.

Don't Neglect the Kitchen

Drawers

"For convenience in kitchen drawers put the most used articles in the easily reached places", says Winifred Jecker, home demonstration agent. "From time to time, contents of drawers should be sorted and useless articles discarded."

Senior Play March 8

Tickets for "Ever Since Eve" to be presented March 8, in the high school auditorium by the senior class, are now on sale. They may be purchased from any senior boy or girl, but reserved seats are going fast.

The play, under the direction of Dean Chamberlin, is now entering its sixth week of rehearsal. According to Mr. Chamberlin, the stage crew has been doing a wonderful job on the props, and the play is progressing nicely. Students helping on the props are Mervyn Nelson, Paul Harris, Ardene Howes, Elaine Peirce and Stanley Gould.

The cast consists of Larry Lewis as Johnny, Aline Watson as Susan, Dick Cotta as Spud, Katie Ban as Betsy, Myrtle Enyart as Lucybell, Nina Page as Johnny's mother, Ray Flagg as Johnny's father, Walter Trask as the cop, Philip Ling as the principal of the high school, Coralie Hill as a teacher, and Alan Miller as a football hero.

The plot concerns the troubles
and trials between man and woman that have been going on ever since Eve. None have been as complicated as the affairs of Johnny and Susan.

part of most every family's postwar plan, the convenient arrangement of drawers in the kitchen should not be overlooked. If new drawers are to be built, they should be made only as deep as needed. Thought should be given to the best use of drawer space.
Good drawer arrangement means not having too many things for the size of the storage space, making the storage space fit the things stored in it, and placing the things used most often within easy reach.

How this can be done is shown in a circular prepared by Jean Warren, former home management specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service, University of California. This circular is available through the Agricultural Service, 201 Post Office Bldg., San Jose, free of charge.

Campbell Musicians Red Cross Girl Play in Symphony Returns

A large number of Campbell residents were present at last Thursday evening's symphony orchestra concert at the San Jose Civic Auditorium, which local music critics have deemed a superb performance with high praise for Conductor Edward Azhderian.

Contributing to the success of the evening were six local artists who are members of the San Jose Symphony Orchestra. Frank Triena, concert master, received enthusiastic recognition for his ability and talent. Triena is music instructor at the Campbell Union High school.

Richard Gordon, musical director at the Campbell Elementary school, was principle in the second section of violins; Miss Dorothy Wilkinson, Campbell, who had rehearsed only twice with the orchestra, was also in the second section of violins. The third member of the second violin group from Campbell was Earl Booker.

In the bass section was Stanley Gould of Campbell, and the Rev. Robert Carlson, of the Campbell Congregational church.

Included on the program were "Overture to Russian and Ludmilla" by Glinka; "Symphony No. 4, Italian" by Mendelssohn; "Andante con moto—con moto Moderato" by Saltarello; "La Traviata, Prelude to Act I" by Verdi; "Caucasian Sketches" by Ibanoff; "Overture to die Fledermaus" by Strauss; and an encore, "The American Patrol".

Symphony president, W. W. Jacka welcomed the audience and gave a short history of the group since its inception at an Elks' Club benefit. It now has 80 members who are performing without compensation.

A highlight of the evening for local patrons was the presence of two Campbell men in the group of four who were asked to stand before the audience for an outstanding performance. The two local men were Triena and Gordon.

After six months' service with the Red Cross in the Panama Canal Zone, Miss Betty Grass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Grass, 62 Thornton Way, arrived at Mills Field Sunday evening. She is now on terminal leave.

The trip home was made by Army transport, carrying the last large group of point-dischargees, to New Orleans, and then by train to Washington, D. C., where Miss Grass was released from the Red Cross.

Despite a narrow escape from drowning in Panama, Miss Grass considers it a lovely place and said that morale was not too great a problem there because of the numerous activities available, such as fishing and swimming. The recreational club, in which she served as program director, was unusual in its facilities and attraction.

Her brush with drowning came at a swimming party at Gorgona Beach when she was caught by a strong undertow. Two soldiers from the harbor defenses at Balboa rescued her and later received medals for their heroism. The young Red Cross worker's health was impaired by the accident, but she has now almost completely recovered.

A graduate of San Jose State College, Miss Grass served as the Junior Boys' Building Secretary at the Y. M. C. A. in San Jose, and later as a hostess at the air field in Santa Maria. During her Red Cross training period, she was one of the two girls in her group of 100 to be selected for advanced training.

"The thing that impressed me most as I left," Miss Grass said, "was the arrival of the new boys—and how very young they are. They will need a lot of help while they are 'sweating it out' and the Red Cross still has a big job to do there."

Kiwanis Club Hears Building Inspector

The Kiwanis Club, with Herbert Shadle as chairman, heard John D. Roberts, county building inspector, speak on the new building code at the Tuesday luncheon.

He stated that it was instituted to supply a uniform measure of safety in all types of construction. He also gave a few of the requirements of the code that would cover business and residential structures in the Campbell area.

Mrs. Frances Cousins, Red Cross chairman for the coming drive, was introduced and asked for the continued support that has been given in the past.

Mrs. David Sanders gave a resume of the work being done by the Red Cross workers in this area, which included transportation of entertainers to various hospitals for injured veterans.

Visitors were Harold Moriarity of San Jose club, Benny Moritz, Thor Thorwaldson and C. C. Dixon of Los Gatos club and Mr. M. Young, former Methodist minister in Los Gatos and guest of Larry Osborne.

C. P. Klassen presented Paul Becker with a plaque, honoring him for his Army service, in behalf of Kiwanis.

The speaker for next week will be Supt. Robert Williams of the International Business Machines.

Ruth Comfort Mitchell To Speak at PTA Meeting

Ruth Comfort Mitchell, well-known writer and speaker, will address the March 5 meeting of the Campbell Grammar School PTA which will begin at 2:30 in the school auditorium. She will discuss character development through active participation in youth activity groups such as the Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Also on the program will be a skit presented by a group of Camp Fire Girls, a tumbling act by members of Arthur Tindall's classes and folk dancing. The fourth grades will be hostesses and everyone is invited to attend.

Marriage License Issued

A marriage license has been issued to Lester Lee Heriman of Los Gatos and Lillian Brown Roberts of Campbell.

Frances Frisch Married

Of interest to her Campbell friends was the wedding Feb. 3 at Trinity Episcopal church in San Jose of Miss Frances Elizabeth Frisch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Frisch, to Frederick Louis Giacomazzi, son of Mrs. Adele Giacomazzi of King City.

The new Mrs. Giacomazzi attended Campbell Union High school and San Jose State College.

Her attendants for the ceremony were Miss Sue Williams and her sister, Miss Lois Frisch, who wore brocaded satin dresses, one in pink and one in blue. The bride's gown was fashioned with a fitted satin bodice and bouffant skirt of marquisette over satin. With this she wore a fingertip veil and in addition to a white prayer book, also carried white orchids and hyacinths.

Acting as best man was Paul Ferreira, with Edward Hubner and Robert Skillman, ushers.

Preceding the rites, Miss Ruth Cousins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cousins, Campbell, sang two solos: "I Love Thee" and "Because".

A small reception was held at the Hotel Sainte Claire following the ceremony. After a tour of Southern California and Mexico, the young couple will make their home in San Jose.

Farming Outlook Discussed

Outlook for farming and processing labor and for farm equipment in the postwar growing season was among the topics discussed by the agricultural committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce's Central Coast Council, meeting at the Santa Lucia Inn at Salinas recently.

Eric Cullenward, California Processors & Growers, Inc., explained jurisdictional disputes between labor organizations as they affect agricultural personnel and operations using farm products. Jack E. Outlook for new farm equipment and other agricultural materials and supplies was discussed by Gordon Laing, agricultural commissioner of Alameda County, and Frank Cornell, Cornell Tractor Co. Guayule disposal—of especial interest to the Salinas Valley areas—was reported by Fred S. McCargar, secretary of the Salinas Chamber of Commerce.

Senator Fred Weybret presented a review of agricultural measures in the special legislative session. Social security aspects of agricultural operation was the theme of Charles A. Brown, director of the State Chamber of Commerce's social security department.

Many Officers Re-Enlisting

War-time officers released from active duty are trading their brass for the "zebra" stripes of a master sergeant or first sergeant—and like the idea.

Scores of former officers, ranking as high as full colonels, have shed their bars, leaves and eagles to enlist in the Regular Army in the top enlisted status.

Major Lawler, head of the local recruiting station at San Jose, disclosed that from 30 to 40 ex-officers are re-entering the Army from the Northern California district each week.

Here's the reason why—Many officers, commissioned since the outbreak of war, have years of service behind them as enlisted men in the old Regular Army. And these professional soldiers desire to return to their enlisted status so that they might retire after 20 or 30 years service. The statutory retirement age for an officer is 64.

Young Air Corps officers, not absorbed in the post war air force, form a large bulk of enlistments.

While these former flyers will not retain their pilot ratings, they will have an opportunity of becoming crew members and mechanics. At the same time, they will keep their reserve commissions.

Released officers have three months after date of discharge or terminal leave to enlist in the top pay grade of either master or first sergeant. And many former officers, along with hundreds of ex-G. I.'s re-enlist in the Army after a brief twirl at civilian life.

Walker Pass, established in 1935, was the first pass across the Sierras from the East.

Large Audience Expected To Hear Robeson

The song recital of Paul Robeson on next Thursday evening in the San Jose Auditorium is exciting keen interest among the several thousand patrons who saw the magnificent performance of Mr. Robeson last year in "Othello". Few who heard his deep rich voice in speaking the Shakespearean verse but wished for opportunity to hear the celebrated Negro in solo song recital. According to Herman Devries of the Chicago Tribune, Robeson is "First among the vocalists of his race, and comparable to the greatest singers of any race."

Elisabeth Bergner in "The Two Mrs. Carrolls" coming to San Jose March 11.

Elisabeth Bergner Stage Event

The greatest of all European actresses, the Viennese Elisabeth Bergner, will be seen in the New York original production of "The Two Mrs. Carrolls" in San Jose on Monday evening, March 11. During its two-season run on Broadway, Life Magazine said of Miss Bergner's performance, "She is the most accomplished actress on Broadway", while the London Observer commented, "If she is not a great actress, then nobody ever was a great actress. She is worthy to stand with Bernhardt and Duse."

Family Reunion

A combined family reunion and celebration of Old Settlers' Day was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Genasci, Central Ave., when Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Genasci arrived from Los Angeles, Donald Genasci from Santa Ana and Ed Genasci from Stockton. Mrs. L. Genasci is recovering from a severe illness.

Box Office Reporter

Although not given top billing, "Swinging on a Star", coming to the Campbell Theater this weekend, is an engaging piece of entertainment.

Production, direction and story are all above average, and an able cast sustains interest throughout. The song numbers, of which there are three, are subordinated so that the whole emerges as a comedy with music rather than as a series of production numbers.

Jane Frazee and Brad Taylor head the cast, the former portraying an ambitious young songwriter who comes to New York to seek justice from a bandleader who has stolen one of her songs. The bandleader takes to the hills, whereupon she passes herself off as his niece, moves into his apartment, and sells her songs, as well as her personality, to the company which sponsors his radio program. She finds romance too in the person of a lyric writer who occupies the apartment next door to the one she has pre-empted.

The late Harry Langdon makes a notable success of the leading comedy part. Minna Gombell is outstanding in a brief bit.

Theta Rho's To Have Circus Dance

Women's Club To Have Plant Exchange

The next meeting of St. Lucy's Women's club will feature a plant exchange, and each member who does not bring a plant will be forced to pay a forfeit. The meeting will be held in the parish hall at 2:15 on March 7.

The Book Mark

by vivian

"Written on the Wind" by Robert Wilder.

Here is found a mixture of influences men bring to bear on one another, plus the disparaging effect of a fortune bestowed on weak humans.

Ann-Charlotte and Cary are the two unfortunate recipients of a fortune beyond any known figure. Their father constantly lived in terror of the knowledge that he possessed so much money. He tried to work; the foundation of his tobacco concern was so well planned he had nothing to do. He turned philanthropist but the millions he gave away dented not his fortune. His children did not care about the origin of the fortune, their only concern was what to do next.

Reese, sometimes known as "Just Reese", was their only friend who far too late learned to hate them. Reese was Just Reese, never any different, but how Cary and Ann-Charlotte twisted him. He was taken off his father's poorly farm and lived with the rich Whitfields on The Hill. The Whitfields' admonition was "take care of them, Reese". But how can a boy of 18 help a sophisticated girl of 13? How can he help Cary, who at the time, is well on his alcoholic way?

Maybe if he had beat Cary sooner, nearly killed him; maybe if he had succumbed to the demands of Ann-Charlotte?

Their constant demands on his nerves, his time, his thoughts, wore him too thin and later he had no recourse but to turn to his small farm and get the feel of the soil in him again.

It's hard to say whether this is a story of the Whitfields or of "Just Reese", but it is well written and gives cause for pondering.

"How much do we unnecessarily demand from these wondrous people who are always willing to give—give—give?"

Lloyds Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd entertained with a family gathering of 18 at The Tennessee Inn last Sunday in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. Lloyd's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harrington of Orinda.

Mahlon B. Young Entertains Students

At Tuesday's high school assembly, the students were entertained by Mahlon B. Young of Berkeley, who interprets the poetry, humor and philosophy of the American Negro.

The program featured dramatic interpretations of poems by Paul Laurence Dunbar and James Weldon Johnson interspersed with stories of the Southland and sketches of Negroes who have achieved.

Mr. Young has a background of life among the Negro people and a deep interest in their music, humor, poetry, philosophy and religion. As a professional entertainer, he has made a special study of this part of American culture. His entertainment has been commended by educators, ministers and civic leaders.

At present Mr. Young is organizing a visitation evangelism campaign of Methodist churches in this area.
